Update: Fulton County Election Fraud

Signature Verification was not Performed!

Election Certified without Signature Verification ©Joe Hoft, Hutchinson Island

Update on Georgia Election Fraud. The Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger hid the fact that signature verifications were not performed in Fulton County (where Atlanta is located) on 147,000 ballots in the 2020 Election, yet they certified a Joe Biden “win” by 12,000 votes.

Per Kanekoa The Great on Twitter/X:

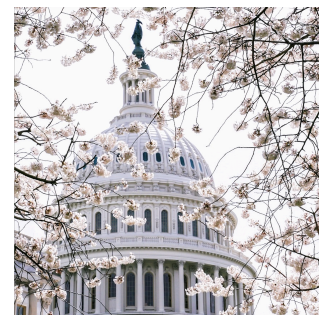

NEW: Mark Wingate, a Fulton County Elections Board member, testifies that he voted against certifying the 2020 election because the county did not verify the signatures on 147,000 mail-in ballots.

“I asked what did we do for signature verification? And the comment I got back frankly floored me, ‘We didn’t do any.’”

Additionally, the county could not provide any chain of custody documentation or surveillance footage for mail-in ballots or ballot drop

What Can We ALL Do ???

There is no Government Savior

What can we do when our government is poorly run?
©Sheila Gallo, Vero Beach

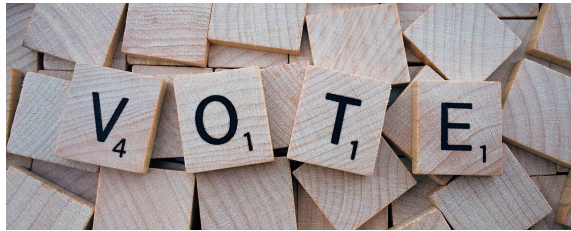

We cannot ignore the obvious. We are all seeing from both sides of the isle. Sometimes we hear an abundance of bad news, and we forget how to get to the solution. Here are some basic ideas to consider.

1. The Do Nothing Approach. Sit back and think others are going to take action. Are you willing to accept the decisions others make on your behalf?
2. The Arm Chair Quarterback Approach. Complaining without action. Does this help improve your personal situation or your country?
3. The Toe Dipper Approach. You'd be surprised how much impact you could make by sending an email to your legislator vs posting on social media.
4. The Dive In Approach.

“I and other board members had requested that we obtain the chain of custody documentation from the department and none of that was ever delivered.”

“There was never any surveillance tape, an inch of footage delivered to the board.”

He also says there were problems with the voter registration rolls that still exist in Fulton County.

What is the Hatch Amendment?

A Simple Solution

A tool to protect informed consent and uphold a child’s right to privacy. A Hatch letter in your child’s file is a simple solution.

Under U.S. legislation and court decision, parents have the primary responsibility for their children’s education, and students have certain rights that the school may not deny. Parents have the right to be assured that the schools do not unknowingly or knowingly impair or weaken the student’s beliefs, moral values and belief systems within his or her family unit.

A student has the right to hold his or her values and moral standards without direct or indirect manipulation by the schools through curricula, textbooks, and AV material or supplementary assignments.

Under the Hatch Amendment, parents have the right to request that their child not be involved in any school activity nor introduced to material listed below unless they have first reviewed all the relevant material and given their written consent.

Sample letter:

_____(date)_____

Dear _(building principal)_____.

As the parents of ___(child’s name)___, who attends ___(school name)___, we thank you and your staff for your interest and effort in seeking to provide an excellent education for our child. Your commitment and skills are deeply appreciated! We are proud of the level of excellence in education that ___(school name)___ provides in each classroom, and we thank you for all that you do to contribute to the education of our ___(son or daughter)___.

What is the Hatch Amendment?

We would like to address the issue of our ability to review classroom material via this letter.

Our desire is that we are able to review materials and address issues with our child concurrent with the curriculum and within the framework of our family, as well as having the appropriate knowledge to discern the curriculum's alignment or lack thereof with our family's beliefs.

Values clarification, use of moral dilemmas, discussion of religious or moral standards, role playing, open-ended discussions of situations involving moral issues, survival games including life/death decision exercises, contrived incidents for self-revelation, sensitivity training, group encounter sessions, talk-ins, magic circle techniques, self-evaluation, auto-criticism, strategies designed for self-disclosure including the keeping of a diary, journal or log book, sociograms, sociodramas, psychodramas, blindfolded walks, isolation techniques, death education including abortion, euthanasia, suicide, use of violence, discussions of death and dying, curricula or books and reading materials pertaining to religious beliefs (including elements of witchcraft), drugs and alcohol, nuclear war, nuclear policy, nuclear classroom games, globalism, one world government, curricula discussing anti-nationalistic views, evolution, discussion and testing on interpersonal relationship, discussions of attitudes towards parents and parenting, health education including human development, and education in human sexuality including birth control and pre-marital sex.

Psychological and psychiatric treatment or adult and peer counseling that is designed to affect behavioral, emotional or attitudinal characteristics of an individual or designated to elicit information about attitudes, habits, traits, opinions, beliefs, or feelings of an individual or group.

Why get involved? Maybe the poem below offers the best reason.

The best-known versions of The Confession in English are the edited versions in poetic form that began circulating by the 1950s. A longer version by the Holocaust Memorial Day Trust, a charity established by the British government, is as follows:

First they came for the Communists
And I did not speak out
Because I was not a Communist

Then they came for the Socialists
And I did not speak out
Because I was not a Socialist

Then they came for the trade unionists
And I did not speak out
Because I was not a trade unionist

Then they came for the Jews
And I did not speak out
Because I was not a Jew

Then they came for me
And there was no one left
To speak out for me

Indian River County Republican Registration Tables & Charts

Chart 1: Indian River County Voter Registration Changes Since the 2022 General Election Book Closing

Indian River County Republican Registration Tables and Chart ©Stephen R. Meyer, Vero Beach, Florida, issued March 30, 2023

Table 1: Indian River County (IRC) Recent General Election Results

Year	Election	Republican Vote Margin Relative to Democrat Vote	FL County Rank (1 st (Best) through 67 th)
2022	Gubernatorial Election	+27,525	26th
2020	Presidential Election	+21,028	24th
2018	Gubernatorial Election	+16,465	24th
2016	Presidential Election	+19,577	23rd
2014	Gubernatorial Election	+17,351	13th
2012	Presidential Election	+15,998	18th

Table 2: End of the Month IRC Registration Metrics

Metric	Value
Republican Registration Gains Since the 2022 Election	1,048
Gain in Republican Percentage of Total Registrations Since the 2022 Election	1.95%
Republican Registration Gains Relative to Democrat Registrations Since 2022 Election	3,534
Republican Registration Margin Relative to Democrat Registrations	30,790

Table 3: Recent Primary and General Election Turnout Numbers

Year	Primary Votes Cast	General Election Votes Cast
2022	38,498 (49.6% of General)	77,624
2020	40,452 (41.2% of General)	98,198
2018	32,829 (43.8% of General)	74,999
2016	32,245 (39.5% of General)	81,716

Note: There had been some relatively large shrinkages in the number of registrations in Indian River County earlier this year. Leslie Swan, the Indian River County Supervisor of Elections, provided information that the law was changed to make it easier to shift voters into the inactive voter category, a category where the process of removing the voter from the voter rolls is initiated. It appears that the bulk of the moves to the inactive category have been made as the number of registrations bottomed out in May.

The Phrasing and Branding Political Battle ©Stephen R. Meyer, Vero Beach

Those opposition to the building of greater amounts of owner-occupied homes are masterful in creating phrasing and branding. The controlling of the narrative through phrasing and branding has resulted in a shortage of housing for those wishing to purchase their first home.

Why promote home ownership? One reason is that the Federal Reserves' 2022 Survey of Consumer Finances found the net worth of homeownership households was $396,200 versus a modest $10,400 for those households who rent their housing!

A cause of the shortage of housing for the first-time home buyers is the decades old creation of what is referred to in Florida as the "urban service boundary". The inability to easily expand urban service boundaries has created a shortage of land available on which the building of starter homes may take place. Imposed shortages of land, coupled with the huge expansion in the demand for housing stemming from open-border policies and foreign buyers, along with large investment companies entering the housing market, has driven up home prices, pricing those wishing to purchase their first home out of the marketplace, while enriching landowners, existing homeowners, and local governments.

Urban is a word which is generally held in disdain. Urban is used throughout Florida statutes dealing with the creation of greater numbers of owner-occupied starter homes. For example, Florida Statue 163.3164 says, in part, in defining urban sprawl "...a development pattern characterized by low density, automobile-dependent development ...". Classifying "low-density development" as being urban is an amazing accomplishment for those whose intent is the inhibiting of the building of starter homes.

Those who rent their housing, being far more likely to be registered as something other than Republican, explains the Democrats' reason for limiting the building of starter homes. What is the Republican reason? A good first Republican step would be to strip the word "urban" from Florida statues where "urban" is improperly used!

The Republican political class is often disconnected from the Republican rabble. A good way for the Republican rabble to determine who to vote for, especially for state and local offices, is a candidate's view on what is "urban"!
