Volume 1 Issue 1 | HDMS Journalism | Published Every Month | Edition: October, 2026

All About Corgis!

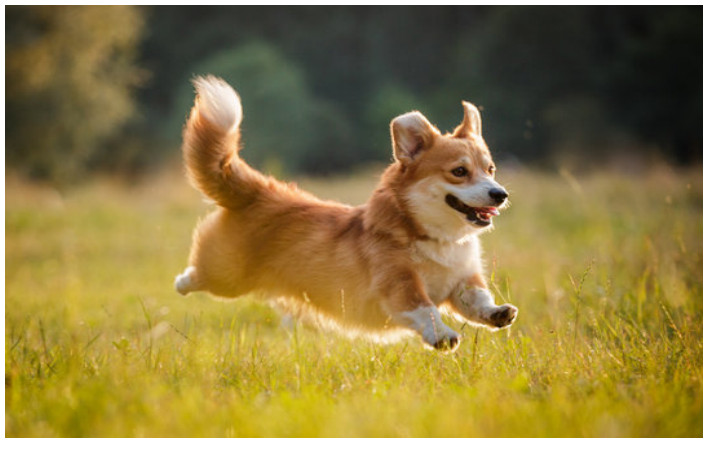

By Violet - Grade 7

Fun Facts - Page 2

Why You Should Get One -Page 3

What Corgis Need - Page 4

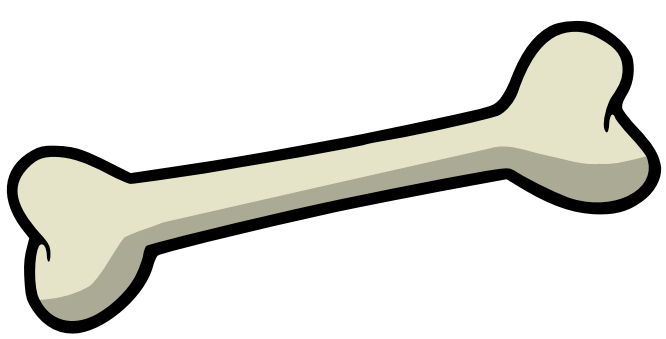

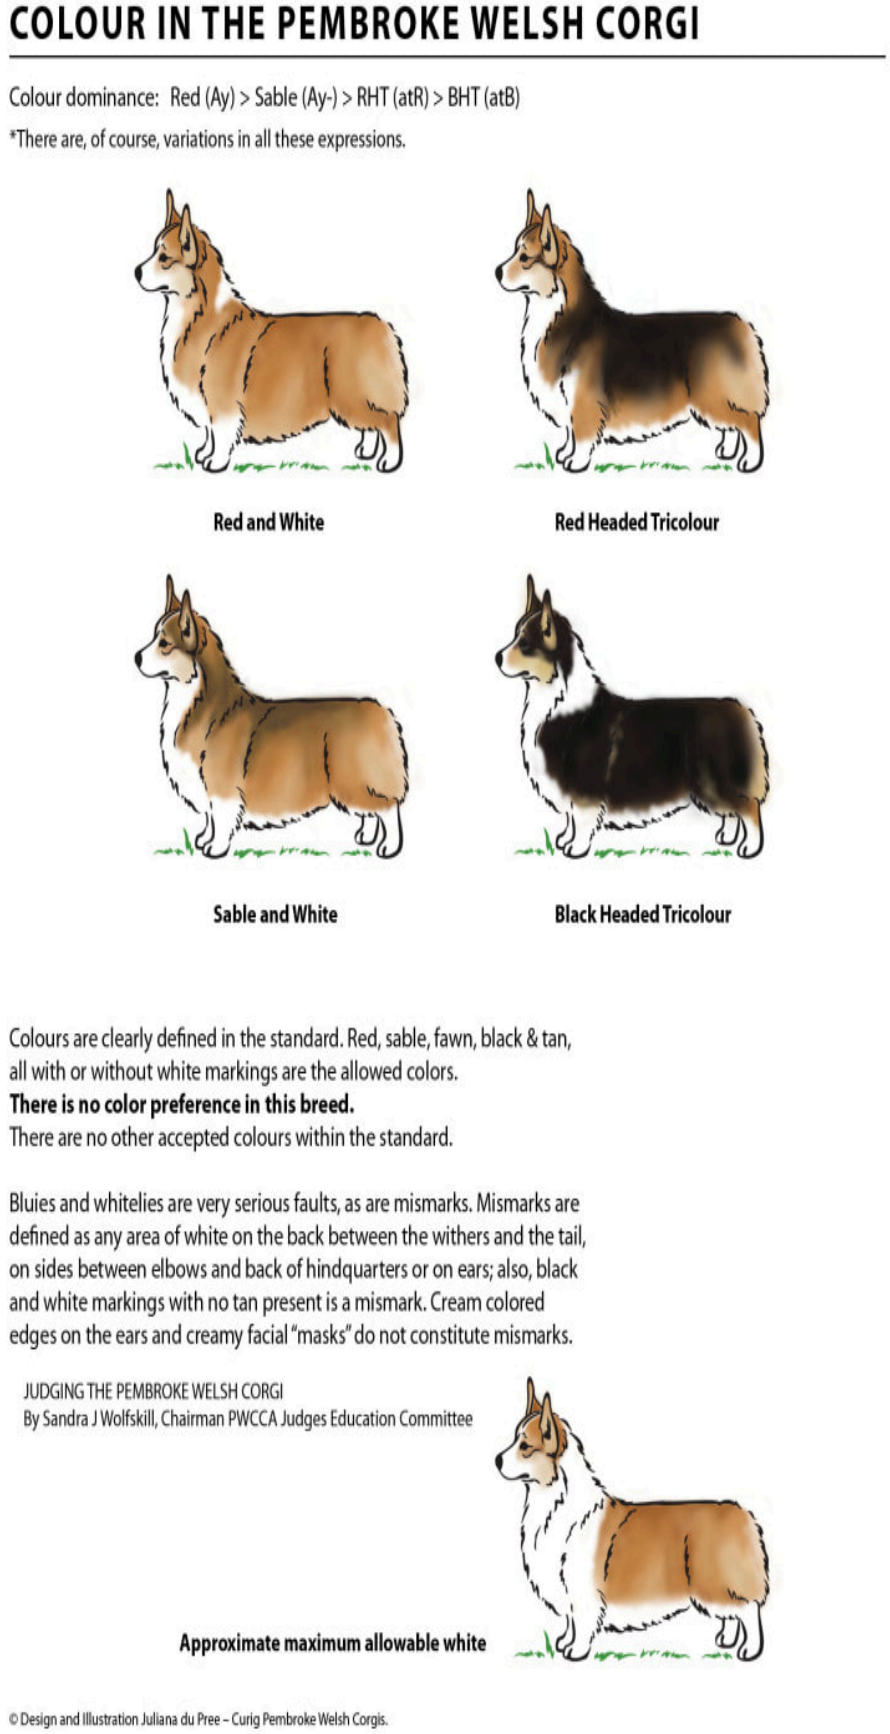

What Dog Breed Are Corgis?

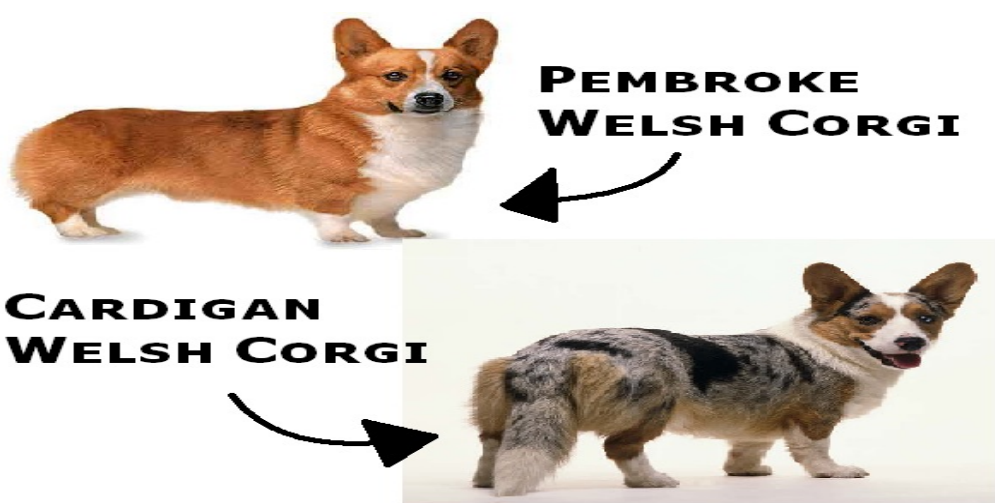

A huge potato... just kidding they are Pembroke Welsh Corgi and the Cardigan Welsh Corgi. They are a cute, friendly type of herding dog, so they might try to bite your ankles.

Corgis like to cuddle, give kisses and they might bite your ankles because that's how they herd sheep.

If you ever encounter a corgi don't touch their butts or their legs. You may think what harm could it do because they're short? However, they can have joint degeneration, or acute injuries. It could happen and hurt them.

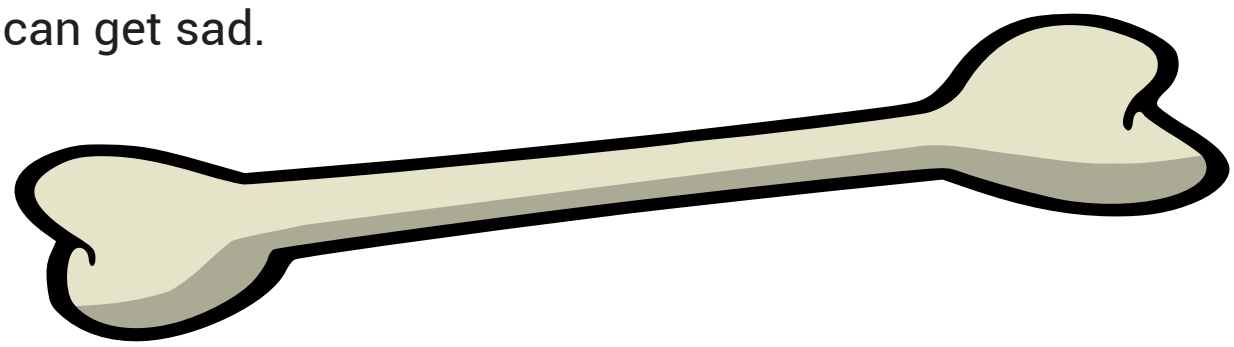

Why do you need this kind of dog?!

By Violet - Grade 7

YOU ABSOLUTELY NEED A CORGI! You need a corgi because they are great herding dogs and a great family pets plus they are adorable! Corgis are great with kids and also are 20-30 pounds so they are easy to handle. Corgis are also little potatoes who love to cuddle! Fun fact, if you spill potatoes with a Corgi around I'm afraid you might not be able to find your corgi, it blends right in haha.

Corgis are famous for having a tendency of eating whatever is put in front of them! Corgis are also great dogs to walk with, travel with and go to the park. When going on walks know, you might need to carry them if they get tired.
Corgis love to snuggle be funny and hide as but if you don't play along like you can't see them they can get sad.

What supplies are needed?

Things you need for a corgi are…

- Leash, collar, and harness
- Bed, blanket, and stuffy
- A bunch of toys
- A lot of food and treats
- Grooming supplies
- And you might need a tutu

