LUNKY

What is "Project Lunky"?

A Fantastic Anime Experience – Project Lunky!

Project Lunky is a fun and engaging anime that stands out with its unique style, memorable characters, and entertaining storytelling. The series has a special charm that keeps you interested and makes you want to see what happens next. The creativity and effort put into the project really shine through, making it an enjoyable experience for anime fans. Whether you appreciate imaginative concepts, character development, or simply a good anime to watch, Project Lunky is definitely worth checking out. Overall, it's a refreshing and enjoyable project with plenty of potential, and I'm excited to see what comes next!

Project Lunky is a game by Markiplier's (Mark Fischbach) head editor Lixian!

Lunky was originally a joke for Markiplier's when Lixian was on vacation and since Mark talks to Lixian in his videos, he made Lunky and it spiraled out to a whole brand new horror/fun anime series.

The game "Project Lunky" is pretty much a survival & horror game. Imagine if the games "Envade" and "Regenervater" were put together! PL (Project Lunky) has random floors, events, and shops!

Lixian, the editor in his cartoon style that appears every once in a while in Mark's videos.

Wilford Warfestche, The shop keeper, also one of my favorite characters. You meet him at least a few minutes into the game, he refers to you as "sidekick" (he says this when you first meet him: "My name is Wilford WarfStash, a professional interviewer, expert dancer, and stunning in a pink afro... and you are— Oh, uh, oh, irrelevant, we all know who the main character is anyway.")

Why Is This Anime Worth Watching?

Project

LUNKY

Project Lunky is an enjoyable anime with a lot of great qualities that make it fun to watch. The characters are memorable, each bringing their own personality and charm to the story. The shops add an interesting touch to the world, making exploration feel rewarding and giving the setting more life. The enemies are also a highlight, bringing exciting challenges and making encounters more engaging.

Overall, I really appreciate how the characters, shops, and enemies all contribute to the experience. Everything helps make the world feel more interesting, and there is always something to enjoy. Project Lunky has plenty of charm, creativity, and entertainment value, making it a great experience for fans who enjoy unique characters, fun exploration, and exciting battles!

Speaking of shops..WILFORD WARFSTACHE (my all time favorite)! He runs the shop when you are on some of the game floors, when you go through portals, AND at the respawn point whenever your character might perish! Also, the the 2nd or 3rd NPC (non-playable character) you meet. The game is also in 3D and Lixen both made and programmed the game! I guess being an editor has its perks!

The main enemies in the game are the Lunky creatures. You find them on every floor and depending on the floor event, they can do 40-60 DAMAGE (wow, that's a lot)!
