Mr. Conway's Shoes!
And how the 6th graders don't know what we witnessed last year!

We think his new shoes are so much better than last year's shoes. Now, he can't whip out his smelly feet. We saved the new 6th graders from his stanky feet (so gross). Our protesting succeeded in putting his stanky feet away and he got shoes! We are now 7th graders and this still haunts us to this day.

We think that he would look better if he got his feet in some hot pink high heel crocs because he would look better in them. The best thing about his new shoes is that his daughter picked them out. The color of his new shoes is the color of a tennis ball, and so neon that they blind us. The crocs that he needs are a collaboration of Balenciaga and crocs. These crocs cost $625, but a necessary purchase for the math teacher.

Then:

Now:

Fashion Breakdown with Mr. Conway!

Reporter: "Why did you choose to wear flip flops all the time last year?"

Mr. Conway: "I found them more comfortable and I didn't like to wear socks."

Reporter: "What made you choose lime green sneakers?"

Mr. Conway: "My daughter picked them out."

Reporter: "Why do you think flip flops are the best kind of shoes to wear?"

Mr. Conway: "I believe that anything you can do in shoes, you can do in flip flops."

Reporter: "Do you feel more comfortable in your sneakers than in your flip flops?"

Mr. Conway: "I find these sneakers to be very comfortable (surprisingly). I don't have a problem with the sneakers and I was able to find comfortable socks."

Reporter: "Would you ever spend $625.00 on pair of amazing crocs?"

Mr. Conway: "I would spend $3.75 dollars at most!"

Reporter: "What color shoes will you get next?"

Mr. Conway: "Probably bright pink highlighter color."

Reporter: "When did you first start wearing flip flops and will there be more shoes in your closet in the future?"

Mr. Conway: "I started wearing flip flops first in high school and yes, there will be more shoes in my closet in the future."

Fashion Breakdown with Mrs. Johnson!

Next, we sit down with the sixth grade social studies teacher Mrs. Johnson, who gives us her input in the world of fashion!

Reporter: "Who or what inspires fashion for you?"

Mrs. Johnson: "American Eagle, GAP, Abercrombie and other stores. Sidney Crawford and Sarah Jessica Parker also inspired me."

Reporter: "What motivates you to wear heels?"

Mrs. Johnson: "I used to wear Birkenstock and wanted to be taller and they are pretty."

Reporter: "Why did you decide to cut your hair and dye it?"

Mrs. Johnson: "I was bored with my regular hair and wanted to change it."

Reporter: "Any tips on how to look younger?"

Mrs. Johnson: "Good sunscreen for skin, moisturizer, whatever clothes or style that makes you confident, hairstyles like braids, and lots of sleep helps."

Reporter: "What colors do you like to wear?"

Mrs. Johnson: "Purple, blue, cream, and white."

Reporter: "What's good for mens' style?"

Mrs. Johnson: "Male teachers should wear ties." She also says, "to look more attractive men should wear watches."

Reporter: "Did you ever want to become a model?"

Mrs. Johnson: "Only for fun, I wasn't ever tall enough and I wanted to be an actor."

Reporter: "How much does hair and makeup affect your outfit?"

Mrs. Johnson: "Takes an hour to do hair and makeup, I plan outfit based off those two things."

Outfit and shoes always depend on what is happening that day!
