

Video Game HQ Review!

What is it?!

Monster Hunter Wilds is the newest game in the Monster Hunter series. It has a whole new story line with tons of new monsters with amazing artwork!

The story of monster hunter wilds is quite interesting as it revolves around an ancient civilization that created limitless energy and synthetic monsters. The story is you and your guild working and investigating this civilization that has just recently been discovered in the forbidden lands. You and your guild found out about the civilization through a boy whose village was attacked by one of the synthetic monsters created by the civilization. The limitless energy harnesses the elements of nature controlling the environment itself. After the fall of the civilization the limitless energy was left unchecked and slowly weaved itself into the ecosystem. You find out about all the secrets, lore and story as you progress through the game.

New Monsters!

Monsters in Monster Hunter Wilds are vastly different compared to other Monster Hunter games. The monsters in this region are new and have difficult attack patterns such as Jin Dahaad being a Goliath and controlling the temperature at will Jin Dahaad has an ability that does massive damage and is difficult to block in any way.

More Monsters!

There are some monsters that are reworked from other games such as Guardian Rathalos or Nerscylla. Guardian Rathalos is a reworked version of a regular Rathalos and is a synthetic monster with two elements now having both fire and ice. Nerscylla got reworked to have a new style of combat as well as slightly altered design. There are other reworked monsters as well like Congalala a.k.a Pink Monkey, and Yian-kut-ku.

What's New?!

Monster Hunter Wilds has lots of new things, monsters, weapons, armor, and movement you might have noticed when you first move that your mount is a lot faster and allows a lot more things then moving without it. Your mount allows for easy mounting of monsters, new attack styles and switching your weapon. The mount allows for easy getaways if you're low when fighting a monster. Your mount will be very helpful especially when fighting certain main storyline monsters such as Zoh Shia and Guardian Arkeveld.

New Quests!

Once you've beaten Zoh Shia, the final boss, you get a quest to capture a fire chicken a.k.a Yian-Kut-Ku. Once the chicken has been captured, you unlock high rank which includes new enemies from older games. High rank monsters that have new abilities and more HP well also have higher damage with better AI making any enemy ten times harder. In high rank there are now new armor sets to match the new and old monsters. These new armor sets have vastly more base defense.
