

WHO WILL WIN?!

The Matchup!

I think the NBA Finals is going to be the OKC Thunder versus the Indiana Pacers. The Thunder are so good when they get stops and play in transition. Once they get going in transition there is no stopping them. They also have one of the best benches in the NBA. They also have the MVP on their team Shai Gilgeous-Alexander. Which is also why I think they're gonna win the 2024-2025 NBA finals.

How Did They Get There?!

Headed towards the east where the New York Knicks and Indiana Pacers are playing in the eastern conference final. I think the Pacers will take this series in 6 games and move on to play the Thunder. The Pacers have a great roster including two all stars, Pascal Siakam and Tyrese Haliburton. The rest of the team is full of great 2nd options and roll players. When they get going on offense their defense picks up too which makes them such a great team. That is why I think the Pacers will make it to the 2024-2025 NBA Finals.

First Look!

Both these teams won their game one's and the Thunder won by a margin of 20 points and the Pacers went to an overtime game and snuck away with the win. The Pacers showed great resilience and were the first ever team to come back down 17 with 5 minutes left. The Thunder are actually up 2-0 and they have looked so dominant with their great roster.

Who Wins The Finals?!

In the Finals I think the series is gonna go 4-2 with the OKC Thunder taking home the NBA Finals! The OKC team is just gonna be too much to handle for the Pacers. The only way I see the Pacers coming out on top is if they can force Shai to shoot more threes and not let him drive to the hoop, because once he gets by you he's gonna score in some way. They also could try a zone because when the Nuggets used their zone against the Thunder they shot below 40% in games 1-6.
