Jerusalem, and in all Judea and
Samaria, and to the ends of the earth.*

Our Mission Statement: We are committed to sharing the truth about God with the world. Believing that everything we do changes the world, we commit to demonstrate God's love and truth to each person He brings into our lives. Organ Prelude, Offering, and Postlude: J. S. Bach (1685-1750): Concerto in G Major for organ, BWV 592, parts 1, 2, and 3

The story of the Concerto in G major could be described as 'The Prince and the Composer'. The original on which this concerto is based is a violin concerto which was written by Prince Johann Ernst who was a nephew of Bach's employer in Weimar. Bach transcribed it for organ.

The first movement exudes an overwhelming joy by using simple little motifs played on various keyboards always a step higher, until they reach the highest sounds. As a contemplative counterpart, the middle movement is dominated by a rather mysterious, legato rhythm. In the final movement, the same overwhelming youthful exuberance returns again. The prince died in 1715, when he was only eighteen years old. Through Bach's transcription, who also signed it with his usual 'SDG' (For God's Glory Only) this music survived through centuries as dedicated to the worship of the Creator.
