

Stoneham Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Church

29 Maple St. Stoneham, MA 02180

Our Motto: To live and share the truth about God and His Kingdom.

Our Mission Statement: We are committed to sharing the truth about God with the world. Believing that everything we do changes the world, we commit to demonstrate God's love and truth to each person He brings into our lives. Through His power and guidance we will choose to act with compassion, creativity and cooperation.

Organ Prelude: Fantasia in C Minor, BWV 537

Organ Postlude: Fugue in C Minor, BWV 537

It is January, 10th, 1750, and two musicians, father and son, have just taken time to copy out a manuscript of an organ piece composed by their organ and composition teacher. It is shortly after Bach's death and the musicians are Tobias and Ludwig Krebs. Ludwig, the son of Tobias was considered by Bach the most gifted among his students. This was going to be the only surviving copy of Fantasia and Fugue in C Minor, BWV 537, the piece we will be exploring today with Fantasia as a organ prelude and the Fugue as postlude.

Without their dedication, this extraordinary piece would have been forever lost to posterity.

The somber Fantasia is based on two pedal points and the imitative treatment of a lament motive, almost identical to the 'Erbarme dich' aria from St Matthew's Passion where Peter weeps bitterly after just having betrayed his Saviour. The Fantasia concludes in an open-ended fashion on a half cadence, forming an organic bridge to the Fugue.

With the Fugue, Bach takes a lyrical form—the operatic da capo aria—and uses it as a vessel for contrapuntal development with two subjects, A and B. The subjects of the A and B sections are never combined; Bach focuses instead on the contrasting nature of the two themes and their differing contrapuntal treatment.

Perhaps nowhere is his writing more concise, direct, and intense than in the Fugue of the Fantasia and Fugue in C Minor.
