Vaiṣṇava Songs on the Harmonium - Easy to Learn For Adults and Children

Preface

This book grew out of the practical need to find a method of teaching harmonium to children and adults who know little or nothing about musical notation. It is an easy-to-learn method with immediate results: learners using it will be able to play a Vaiṣṇava song within 5-10 minutes.

In tutoring devotees in their homes, I have noticed that children and adults need some form of written record to remember the melodies they are learning. If this record is easy for them to understand, it gives them a sense of confidence because they know that they have this aid to memory for when the teacher has left. A beginner will then, with practice, quickly become familiar with the keys, and develop the skill I would call "musical memory". I have taught many adults who firmly believed they were "not musical", only to see them blissfully playing Vaiṣṇava songs on the harmonium in a week.

You will find that the musical notation in this book is very easy to follow and requires no training in Western classical notation. It uses the Vedic musical notes sa, ri, ga, ma, pa, dha and ni, referred to in the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (3.12.47), among other scriptures:

sparśas tasyābhavaj jīvah
 svaro deha udāhṛta
 ūsmānam indriyāny āhur
 antah-sthā bzalam ātmanah
 svarāḥ sapta vihārena
 bhavanti sma prajāpateḥ

Brahmā's soul was manifested as the touch alphabets, his body as the vowels, his senses as the sibilant alphabets, his strength as the intermediate alphabets and his sensual activities as the seven notes of music.

In the purport, Śrīla Prabhupāda explains: 'The musical notes are sa, r, gā, ma, pa, dha, and ni. All these sound vibrations are originally called śabda-brahma, or spiritual sound. It is said, therefore, that Brahmā was created in the Mahā-kalpa as the incarnation of spiritual sound.'

Of course, I could have used the musical scale do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, si, or the Western musical notation of c, d, e, f, g, a, b. This book, however, does not aim to give classical musical training, and the Vedic system seems more congruent with learning to play harmonium as a devotional offering to the Lord.

I have formatted this book and designed it specifically to fit above the keyboard of the harmonium. The large print should also make it easy for children to read the notation and the text of the songs.

As you use this guide and your confidence grows—as with anything else in life—your ability to sing Vaiṣṇava songs and play for the Lord's pleasure in the temple or in your home will grow beyond bounds. I hope that this book will please our divine spiritual master, A.C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupāda, on the auspicious day of his Centennial. I hope that it will please you too.

Introduction

It is important for the learner who uses this book to be familiar with the Vaiṣṇava song he or she wishes to learn and its melody. You will find the words to the songs in this book. I have also recorded a tape, as part of this course, for you to familiarise yourself with the melodies.

The first step in learning to play harmonium is to turn to the back of the book. You will find a page with Sa, Ri, Ga, Ma, Pa, Dha and Ni in small squares. Cut these out carefully. They are for you to glue on to the appropriate keys of your harmonium either with 'pritt stick' or blue-tack. A diagram at the beginning of each Vaiṣṇava song shows you which key is which.

The second step is to play the notes to the song as they are written down in the book without yet trying to sing along. Allocate a finger for each harmonium key which has been marked. This will stop you from crossing your fingers to reach keys. Once you have a feel for the keys, try singing along. If a note, say Ri, comes two or three times consecutively in a line of a song (R R R), simply hold the Ri key down for that time.

After playing the notes and singing along a few times, you will begin memorising certain parts of the song which repeat themselves. This is the third stage. Soon you will commit the whole song to memory. If you happen to then forget any part of a song, this book will serve as a reminder. The tape is essential for melodies that the student does not know. Though music depends a lot on individual perception and interpretation, I would encourage you, at least in the beginning, to keep to the notes I have given you in this book. Later, as you progress, you can make slight adaptations and create your own nuances to suit your style.

Introduction by His Holiness Sivarama Swami

When I was young my mother insisted I learn to play piano. Although our family was not well off, she purchased an old upright and paid for my private tutoring over six years. I followed her instruction, but could not quite understand what benefit I would harvest from such a pursuit. I liked music, and I liked to play. But I knew I was neither a musician, nor destined for fame at the keyboard.

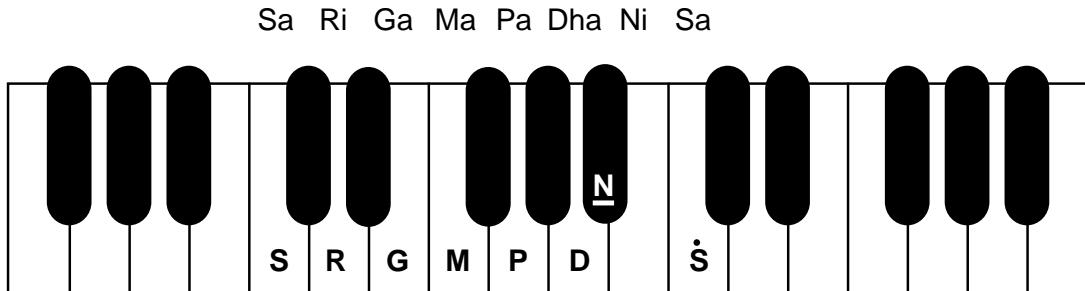

Thirty years later (in 1995) my mother was in Budapest when our festival tour was reaching its climax. I invited her to the program in which I sang bhajans while playing the harmonium. The next day, true to form she phoned me at the temple and said, "You see how good it was that you learned the keyboards. Now you can put it to good use for Kṛṣṇa." I had to admit to her foresight and wisdom. The skills I had learned on the piano had certainly served me well in Kṛṣṇa Consciousness.

When I received a rough draft of Gaurangasundara Prabhu's "Vaisnava Songs on the Harmonium", I was very pleased. Here was a book that would allow devotees to play the songs most popular in our Movement. Without formal keyboard training or music theory, children or adults can easily teach themselves how to glorify the Lord with song and harmonium accompaniment, following the footsteps of our previous acaryas.

For those eager to play the harmonium, with no more musical skill than I, they will find this a valuable contribution. In a short time and with little effort, devotees may master songs by which Sri Kṛṣṇa, and ever their mothers will be impressed.

Śrī Śrī Gurv-aṣṭaka

(By Śrīla Viśvanātha Cakravartī Ṭhākura)

(1)

*samsāra-dāvānala-liḍha-loka trāṇāya kāruṇya-ghanāghanatvam prāptasya kalyāṇa guṇārṇavasya
vande guroḥ śrī-caraṇāravindam*

samsāra—of material existence; dāva-anala—by the forest fire; liḍha—afflicted; loka—the people; trāṇāya—to deliver; kāruṇya—of mercy; ghanāghana-tvam—the quality of a cloud; prāptasya—who has obtained; kalyāṇa—auspicious; guṇa—of qualities; arṇavasya—who is an ocean; vande—I offer obeisances; guroḥ—of my spiritual master; śrī—auspicious; caraṇa-aravindam—unto the lotus feet.

Translation

The spiritual master is receiving benediction from the ocean of mercy. Just as a cloud pours water on a forest fire to extinguish it, so the spiritual master delivers the materially afflicted world by extinguishing the blazing fire of material existence. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master, who is an ocean of auspicious qualities.

*mahāprabhoḥ kīrtana-nṛtya-gītavāditra-mādyan-manaso rasena romāñca-kampāśru-taraṅga-bhājō
vande guroḥ śrī-caraṇāravindam*

mahāprabhoḥ—of Lord Caitanya Mahāprabhu; kīrtana—by chanting; nṛtya—dancing; gīta—singing; vāditra—playing musical instruments; mādyat—gladdened; manasah—whose mind; rasena—due to the mellow of pure devotion; romāñca—standing up of the bodily hair; kampa—quivering of the body; aśru-taraṅga—torrents of tears; bhājah—who feels; vande—I offer obeisances; guroḥ—of my spiritual master; śrī—auspicious; caraṇa-aravindam—unto the lotus feet.

Translation

Chanting the holy name, dancing in ecstasy, singing, and playing musical instruments, the spiritual master is always gladdened by the saṅkīrtana movement of Lord Caitanya Mahāprabhu. Because he is relishing the mellow of pure devotion within his mind, sometimes his bodily hairs stand on end, he feels quivering in his body, and tears flow from his eyes like waves. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master.

(3)

śrī-vigraha-rādhana-nitya-nānāśrīngāra-tan-mandira-mārjanādau yuktasya bhaktāṁś ca niyuñjato ‘pi
 vande guroḥ śrī-caraṇāravindam

śrī-vigraha—of the Deity forms of the Lord in the temple; rādhana—worshiping; nitya—always, daily; nānā—with various; śrīngāra—clothing and ornaments; tat—of their Lordships; mandira—of the temple; mārjanā-ādau—in the cleaning, etc.; yuktasya—who is engaged; bhaktāṁś—his disciples; ca—and; niyuñjataḥ—who engages; api—also; vande—I offer my obeisances; guroḥ—of my spiritual master; śrī—auspicious; caraṇa-aravindam—unto the lotus feet.

Translation

The spiritual master is always engaged in the temple worship of Śrī Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa. He also engages his disciples in such worship. They dress the Deities in beautiful clothes and ornaments, clean Their temple, and perform other, similar worship of the Lord. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master.

catur-vidha-śrī-bhagavat-prasādasvādv-anna-trptān hari-bhakta-saṅghān

catuh—four; vidha—kinds; śrī—holy; bhagavat-prasāda—which have been offered to Kṛṣṇa; svādu—palatable; anna—by foods; trptān—spiritually satisfied; hari—of Kṛṣṇa; bhakta-saṅghān—the devotees; kṛtvā—having made; eva—thus; trptim—satisfaction; bhajataḥ—who feels; sadā—always; eva—certainly; vande—I offer my obeisances; guroḥ—of my spiritual master; śrī—auspicious; caraṇa-aravindam—unto the lotus feet.

Translation

The spiritual master is always offering Kṛṣṇa four kinds of delicious food [analyzed as that which is licked, chewed, drunk and sucked]. When the spiritual master sees that the devotees are satisfied by eating bhagavat-prasādam, he is satisfied. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master.

Translation

The spiritual master is always eager to hear and chant about the unlimited conjugal pastimes of Śrī Śrī Rādhikā and Mādhava, and about Their qualities, names and forms. The spiritual master aspires to relish these at every moment. I offer my respectful obeisances unto the lotus feet of such a spiritual master.
